Program Accomplishments

January 1, 2007-December 31, 2007

Client Services

Through a 24-hour crisis line, support groups, short-term therapy program, and Latina/Latino service program the Rape Crisis Center works to meet the needs of survivors in our diverse community through support, advocacy, information, and referral.

The Center serves primary survivors (those who have directly experienced sexual violence), secondary survivors (friends, family members or others in primary survivors' lives), professionals who work with sexual violence survivors, and other referrals (assistance given regarding issues other than sexual violence).

Therapy Program

The Center launched a short-term therapy program through the support of a Governors Crime Commission two-year grant that began in July 2007. From September through December 2007, 12 clients were served through this program. Short-term therapy is provided by the Center's Associate Director Michelle Johnson, LCSW and two social work interns pursuing Masters Degrees in Social Work at local universities.

Support Groups

From January to December 2007, the Center served 24 clients through seven support groups for both primary survivors and secondary survivors of sexual violence. The first Horticultural Therapy support group for primary survivors of sexual violence was also offered through a collaboration with a local certified Horticultural therapist.

Latina/Latino Services

The Center received funding from the Governor's Crime Commission to begin a Latina/Latino Services program through a two-year grant that began in July 2007. A Latina/Latino Services Coordinator was hired and works towards our goal of providing culturally competent services to Spanish-speaking clients in the Orange County community.

The displayed charts to the right represent an overview of the work of the Center's Client Services program from January 1 - December 31, 2007. 420 clients were served during this period.

Thanks to the following businesses & individuals for their generous donations

Without the financial support of the community, the important work we do would not be possible. While the lists below may appear to be a long recitation of names, they actually represent the life blood of our agency. We are deeply appreciative of the trust our donors place in us to use their money wisely. Listed below are those who have given financial or in-kind donations to the Center for fiscal year July 1, 2006 to June 30, 2007.

Although we make every effort to maintain the accuracy of this list oversights are possible. If you notice an error or absence of a name that should be on the list, please notify us and we will make the corrections in the next newsletter. Again, thank you for your continued support.
