INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Orange County Rape Crisis Center (a not-for-profit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Orange County Rape Crisis Center as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Organization and Activities:

Orange County Rape Crisis Center (the "Center") is a not-for-profit agency which has been serving the Orange County community since 1974. The Center works to stop sexual violence through support, education, and advocacy. The Center was incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1974. The Center accomplishes its mission by providing 24-hour support to survivors of sexual violence, their friends, and family members and, by educating the community about ways to prevent sexual violence. Services include: a 24-hour help line, therapy referrals, support groups, and educational programs. The Center coordinates the Sexual Assault Response Team for Orange County. This team includes members of local law enforcement, medical providers, the district attorney's office, advocacy agencies and staff from the local university, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Sexual Assault Response Team works to improve services for survivors of sexual violence by obtaining evidence, assisting with police reports, and prosecuting perpetrators. The Center conducted Community Education Programs in 2013-2014 and served over 14,000 people through these programs. The Center's community Education team is a member of the Chapel Hill/ Carrboro Coordinated School Health Advisory Committee and participates in cyber bullying and subcommittees focused on children's health and well-being. The Center served 600 primary and secondary survivors through their client support services.

All of the services provided by the Center are free and confidential. The Center's services would not be possible without the large number of volunteers who dedicate their time to conducting education programs, answering the crisis line, taking after-hour phone shifts, and assisting with administrative support.

Orange County Rape Crisis Center has received several awards for its work including the 2013 Chapel Hill-Carrboro Chamber of Commerce Nonprofit Business of the Year, 2010 Bilingual Web Access Award, 2002 N.C. Center for Nonprofits Stewardship Award, a 2005 Triangle Access Award from the Alliance of Disability Advocates, a 2006 recognition as a Triangle Way Agency of Excellence, the 1997 Donna Stone Memorial Award for Excellence in Abuse Prevention, and the 2000 Outstanding Leadership Award from the N.C. Victims Assistance Network.

B. Basis of Presentation:

The accompanying financial statements have, in all material respects, been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Net assets and support, revenues, expenses, gains, and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of externally-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Center and changes therein may be classified and reported as follows:

Unrestricted Net Assets-Net assets that are not subject to externally-imposed restrictions. Certain net assets classified as unrestricted may, from time to time, be designated for specific purposes or uses under various internal operating budgets or for board designated purposes.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets--Net assets subject to externally-imposed restrictions that may or will be met either by actions of the Center and/or the passage of time.

Permanently Restricted Net Assets--Net assets subject to externally-imposed restrictions that they be maintained permanently by the Center. The Center currently has no permanently restricted net assets.

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

C. Restricted and Unrestricted Revenue:

Contributions of cash and other assets, as well as grants, are recorded as increases in unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the existence or nature of any donor restrictions.

All donor-restricted contributions and grants are reported as increases in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

D. Recognition of Donor-Restricted Contributions:

Support that is restricted by the donor is reported as an increase in unrestricted net assets if the restriction expires in the reporting period in which the support is recognized. All other donor-restricted support is reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets depending on the nature of the restriction.

E. Functional Allocation of Expenses:

The cost of providing the program and supporting services of the Center have been summarized on the functional basis in the statements of functional expenses. Certain costs have been allocated among program and support services benefited on the basis of time records and estimates made by the Center's management.

F. Accounting Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant estimates and assumptions are used for, but not limited to, the fair value of in-kind contributions and depreciable lives of property and equipment.

G. Investments:

Investments are reported at fair value in the statement of financial position. Fair value is based on quoted market prices when available. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the changes in net assets. Gains and losses are determined using the specific identification method.

H. Promises to Give:

The Center recognizes as revenues, contributions received and made, including unconditional, legally enforceable promises to give, in the period in which the Center is notified that a donor has made a promise to give. All contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. Amounts received that are designated for future periods or restricted by the donor for specific purposes are reported as temporarily restricted support that increases that net asset class. However, if a restriction is fulfilled in the same time period in which the contribution is received, the Center reports the support as unrestricted.

Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at net realizable value and if expected to be collected in future years recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows. Amortization of the discounts is included in contribution revenue. Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met.

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Concluded)

I. Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment are recorded at cost if purchased and at fair market value if donated. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. A capitalization threshold of $500 is utilized.

J. In Kind Contributions:

The Center records in-kind contributions of property and equipment, professional services, advertising, and materials at fair market value at the date of donation. The Center regularly receives a substantial amount of services donated by volunteers interested in the Center's programs. The Center's officers and board of directors voluntarily donate their time on various committees and serve without compensation. No amounts have been reported in the financial statements for volunteer hours unless the services create or enhance nonfinancial assets or require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically be purchased if not provided by donation.

K. Income Tax Status:

The Center is exempt from federal and state income taxes under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code and is classified under Section 501(c)(3) as a public charity. The Center has also been classified as an entity that is not a private foundation within the meaning of Section 509(a) and qualifies for deductible contributions provided in Section 170(b)(1)(A)(vi). The Center files information returns in the U.S. Federal jurisdiction and in North Carolina. These returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service and North Carolina Department of Revenue for a period of three years after the respective filing deadlines.

L. Financial Reserve Policy:

The Center has a Reserve Funds Policy to maintain a reserve to cover three months of operating expenses in reserve. At least 25% of these reserve funds must be held in funds accessible within 30 days. Transfers into and out of the reserve funds must be approved by the Finance Committee. During the course of a month, funds received over and above those necessary for current operating expenses are maintained in interest-bearing accounts to the extent practicable until it is necessary to move them into the checking account to use for expenses. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, the board has designated $140,280 and $129,300, respectively, of unrestricted net assets to this financial reserve.

M. Subsequent Events:

Subsequent events have been evaluated through October 28, 2014, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued. The Organization is not aware of any subsequent events that would require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

2. Investments

Investments held at June 30, 2014 and 2013 consist of the following:

	Historical Cost
June 30, 2014: Mutual Funds	$ 134,971	$169,642
June 30, 2013: Mutual Funds	$129,994	$147,594

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

3. Fair Value Measurements

The Center follows ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, as amended, with respect to fair value measurements of its financial assets and financial liabilities. This standard defines fair value as the exit price, or the amount that would be received to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants as of the measurement date. The standard also establishes a hierarchy for inputs used in measuring fair value that maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs by requiring that the most observable inputs be used when available

The hierarchy is broken down into three levels. Level 1 inputs are quoted market prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. Level 2 inputs include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, and inputs (other than quoted prices) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability. Categorization within the valuation hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for the Center's assets measured at fair value in the accompanying financial statements. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at June 30, 2014 and 2013.

• Mutual Funds

Valued at the net asset value (NAV) of shares held at the measurement date and are considered to be level 1 investments.

The preceding method may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Center believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Fair values measured on a recurring basis at June 30, 2014 and 2013 are as follows:

		Quoted Prices In Active
		Markets for Identical
		Assets
	Fair Value	(Level 1)
June 30, 2014: Mutual Funds	$169,642	$169,642
June 30, 2013: Mutual Funds	$147,594	$147,594

Fair values for investments are determined by reference to quoted market prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions.

Notes to Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013
