Corey Jones

He/Him

I would like to serve on the Board of Directors of the ORCC because I have a passion for advocacy and spreading awareness about the resources that we have as a community about sexual assault and trauma. Growing up, this conversation was taught to me to be a taboo topic and something to keep to yourself. However, due to my past experiences and being surrounded by people that have struggled around this topic, I quickly learned that this is a conversation that needs to be brought to the forefront.

Karen Surprise

She/Her

Profile: Social worker, no previous connection to OCRCC

Social Services	White	She/Her	I have a mental health background with a concentration in trauma/crisis management and I want to use and share my skill set with others. Being new to Orange County, I want to help make a difference in the community as I feel that I did when employed with Safe Alliance in Charlotte. During my time in Charlotte, I developed a connection to our clients as well as my co-workers, and quickly discovered that working with and for these victims is what I am called to do. I feel that serving on the board will be a perfect fit for me and the organization.
No previous board service, but I have volunteered on Board committees.		I am working with a team on racial equity in Orange County in my current position at OC Social Services. I have assisted with fundraising efforts for many nonprofits in the past, including Mental Health America, AFSP, NAMI, PFLAG, Paws4ever, Safe Alliance, and Davidson Lifeline.
